Immersive English Language Programmes

Wish to learn English?

Nothing better than immersing yourself in its own culture by travelling to the country where this language is the means of communication and its people live their traditions daily. Actively learning in the shops, meeting new people or speaking with your host family, friends and students.

English is the international language above all, spoken by more than 400 million people as their mother tongue and by over 1.4 billion as a second language! English is also the official language of over 55 countries. Not only the "international language of business" but spoken on every continent and within every professional field.

- General English/Business English/EAP/Legal English

- International examinations preparation

- Caters for all levels in the Common European Framework

- Group or one-to-one lessons

- Family group study

- Teacher training

- Available to students of all ages and abilities

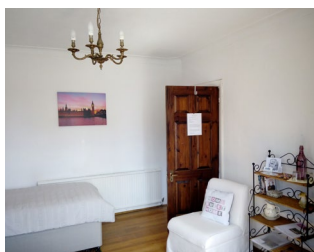

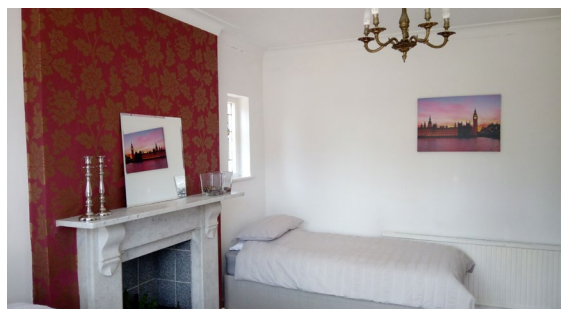

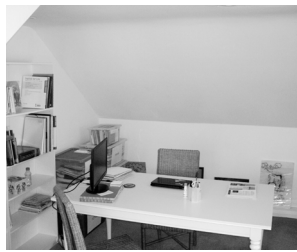

- Accommodation with caring host families in London or the surrounding area

- Activities in London and the surrounding areas allowing you to soak up British culture elephant Minds has always believed in the value of immersive language learning, as it offers a multitude of opportunities to engage with the language that you are learning. When you go to a shop, meet new people or speak with your host family in a foreign country you actively learn about your chosen subject and give yourself real world opportunities to learn the new language. The benefits of this are manifold and these combined with your caring and responsible elephant Minds teacher will allow you to progress very quickly with your studies. We currently offer immersive language courses in London and Buenos Aires, allowing students to learn two of the most spoken languages in the world.

LONDON
